

THE NEWS OF VERDI

Happenings up the River by a Special Correspondent.

The wave of prosperity has not flowed by the little burg of Verdi this last season. A Journal representative took a trip up to the coming biggest saw-mill community on the Truckee river Wednesday, and the rush of business, the tokens of thrift, and the new improvements that are visible on every side give promise of a rattling good future for the mountain skirted town of Verdi.

Not an empty house stands in the town, every building has its occupants and many have been compelled to resort to tents. The main spring of this busy hive is the new sawmill erected by the Verdi Lumber Co., which has given the town a vigorous impetus along the upward track.

The mill is modern, even to the smallest detail, and runs as if by clock work.

The celerity with which a log is sawed into lumber is astonishing; scarcely a hand touches the log itself, everything is accomplished by machinery, from rolling it onto the carriage to shunting the sawed boards and timbers upon the convenient cars.

Two engines furnish the required power, and never a hitch mars the ball-bearing movement of hand-saw, edger, cut-off and rollers.

The capacity of the mill is 55,000 feet per day, and the company intend increasing this to a probable 100,000 by next season.

Logs are brought down from the mountains over a broad-gauge railroad that twists up a precipitous canon over a grade that averages 3 1-2 per cent. Two V's are necessary on one side hill, and the track lays in three tiers one sheer above the other.

The supply of lumber is almost limitless; in one tract alone over 100,000, 999 feet of available timber stands in an unbroken forest. With this immense resource at hand the Verdi Lumber Company can do naught but prosper, and as the industry gives employment to 150 men, not including the box-factory hands, all Verdi will thereby thrive along with the company.

Reno is glad that her sister town shows the symptoms of an energetic population.

splendidly filled by James T. Galloway, whose interpretations are not dimmed by recollections of Herne, good as he was. The entire cast, indeed, has been fortunately selected. Nearly every part calls for "character" acting, as it is known, and on both the ladies' and gentlemen's side, nothing is lacking. There is the same complete and faithful reproduction of old furniture, utensils and farm implements as on the occasion of the play's first presentation. Half the charm of the piece is the quaint and homely atmosphere produced by scenic effort and the stage carpenter. The audience was wholly absorbed in the performance, and everywhere wet eyes bespoke the effectiveness of the situations."

Nevada Awarded the Gold Medal.

A dispatch to the News from Commissioner Yerington states that Nevada has been awarded the gold medal for its mining exhibit.

Nevada received the only gold medal awarded for a general exhibit and therefore stands alone as a gold medal winner. Other States have to be content with silver and bronze decorations.

A week ago an item went the rounds of the State press to the effect that Nevada had been awarded merely a silver medal, and some harsh criticism was launched at the jury on awards. It seems, however, that the statement was a trifle premature.

Shall Reno Hold a Street Carnival?

A number of business men are talking over the advisability of holding a street fair and carnival here next summer, winding up on the Fourth of July in a blaze of glory.

The proposition seems to meet with the approval of many. California towns are giving these street fairs and they have become as popular as the rose carnivals held a few years ago.

Many Miners at Work.

At least two hundred men are engaged in mining in this vicinity. In and around Wedekind City there are about 60 miners. Thirty are employed at Steamboat. An equal number are at Pyramid. A number of outfits on Peavine and Dogskin.

LABOR STRIKE UP IN STOREY

Cyanide Workers Want Three Dollars a Day.

The strike at the Butters plant in Six-mile canyon is still on.

Last night the committee from the Virginia Labor Union made another visit to the plant and induced five of the men to quit work.

All the men employed at grading quit work and refused to go back for less than $3 per day.

Six men from Dayton also joined the strike and will not go back for $2.50 per diem.

In fact a regular stampede has set in and it is expected that in the course of a few days the Butters plant will have nothing but $3 men on its payroll, says the Chronicle.

The sympathy of the community is of course with the strikers. The Miners' Union will stand with them to a man.

They argue that every other employer in the neighborhood is paying his men $3. The mining companies have done and are doing so without a protest. The Kinkaid mill also pays this amount, and the owners of the Eureka Cyanide plant paid it in a locality where the scale of wages was not, comparatively speaking, so high as on the Comstock.

The committee appointed at the meeting of the Virginia Labor Union Wednesday evening called on Manager Whipple at the Butters cyanide plant yesterday, and talked over the situation with him, but he positively refused to consent to an increase of wages. He also forbade the committee going on the company's ground to talk to the men. He said the committee could talk to the men on the road as much as they pleased. The committee then concluded to wait until noon and have a talk with the men as they came down to dinner, but before the lunch hour the men's buckets were taken inside the grounds so the committee could not interview them. The members of the committee then returned to town.

Last evening the committee paid another visit to the cyanide plant and induced five of the men to quit work.

The Union is determined to win the strike, and will use all fair and honorable means to attend that end. They ask the friends of union labor to aid them in their fight and ask working-men to stay away from the county until the present trouble is ended.

The Union held a rousing meeting last night and the membership now numbers 150. Hereafter the Union meetings will be secret, as it has been found that parties who attended the open meetings carried a report of the proceedings to Manager Whipple. The meeting adjourned until Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, when it is expected enough applications will be received to bring the Union's membership up to 250.

The members of the Union were greatly elated last night when it was learned that all the men employed at grading had quit work and refused to work for less than $3 per day. This was added to later when six men from Dayton who had been engaged by an individual in this city to go to work at the plant in the morning returned to town and announced that they would not work for $2.50 per day.—Enterprise.

Operations Resumed.

The mandarin of high degree clambered aboard as the bell rang. He waved his over-grown fingernails at the scribe, with this parting salutation:
"Log-we-toy! How, how, sop, kow; homg ling mah!"

LAST NIGHT'S SOCIAL

A Pleasant Entertainment in the Congregational Church.

The social given by the St. Margaret's Society of the Congregational Church last evening was a most enjoyable affair. The rooms were beautifully decorated in the flags of the nations, the larger room containing flags of many foreign nations kindly loaned by fond owners; the refreshment room was decorated with our loved Red, White and Blue. Noticeable amongst foreign decorations was the Japanese booth, which was made gay by their own flower, the chrysanthemum, placed daintily opposite, hung a huge Chinese flag, with its dragon and yellow pennants. "Erin go Bragh" gladdened the eyes of its countrymen. A silken flag of Italy, the white cross of Denmark, the battle-scarred of the Philippines, and the tri-color of France, all blended under St. Margaret's hands. A musical and literary program was rendered. The numbers were:

Instrumental solo, Miss Irene Peterson
Recitation, Miss Edna Folsom
Quartette, Messrs. Jameson, Smith, Phelps and Ward.

Recitation, Mrs. Shearer

A Good Send-off for Shore Acres.

The Salt Lake Herald of November 6th, has the following to say of "Shore Acres," which will be presented at McKissick's Opera House tonight:
"Not a vacant seat was to be seen in any part of the theater last night—a token to the memory of James A. Herne and his delicious 'Shore Acres' stronger than anything that could be written. Herne is dead, but it is gratifying that his work, unlike that of many other authors, is not cheapened, butchered or burlesqued by his successors. 'Shore Acres' as seen last night, is as sweet and reminiscent as when produced here several years ago by its gifted author. The role which Herne took—that of the big-hearted old light-keeper, Nathaniel Berry—is

JOHN H. DENNIS, Editor

CARNEGIE ON RECIPROCITY.

In a recent interview Andrew Carnegie said: "Reciprocity is a fine word to speak, but when you come to arrange the details it is a most difficult policy. You can arrange reciprocity with one country, but that country favors you at the expense of all others. The best policy is to reduce protective duties. Washington's policy was the best: 'Friends of all, allies of none.'"

Apart from the practicability of reciprocity which Mr. Carnegie evidently doubts, it is plain to be seen that he recognizes the necessity of changes in the tariff law. When the greatest iron worker in the world says "the best policy is to reduce protective duties," meaning of course iron and steel with the bounty strikers who are absolutely opposed to any changes whatever. This makes them equally opposed to reciprocity and revision, but so far as the former is concerned for a very different reason than that given by Mr. Carnegie. Their motive was manifested last winter when Senator Perkins, of California said that reciprocity treaties could no longer be negotiated under the Dingley law because the limitation was named in the statute itself, which speaks of a period of two years within which treaties may be made. This view was immediately adopted by the claquers, who declared that the point was well taken and that it should be pressed. Furthermore, they advised if the treaties were passed they should be fought in the courts.

Every reasonable person will admit that many of our manufacturers need no protection and when such a man as Mr. Carnegie acknowledges as much and goes the whole length of tariff revision, how the unreasonableness of these extremists must become apparent to the public mind? They are offered a compromise but become arrogant and condemn out of their arrogance and avarice what Mr. Carnegie condemns for very different reasons. His objection is that it is difficult to arrange and that it does not go far enough. They say that reciprocity is half way to free trade and that the Dingley bill must be considered unchangeable, the perfection of economic legislation and that to tamper with it would be sacrilege. Such a temper is not likely to help their cause. The people in their present mood are in no humor to give alms by the million to millionaires, but they are in the humor to accept the testimony of a millionaire that he needs no alms.

TAMMANY AND THE QUAY RING.

WE are no admirer of Tammany nor are we an apologist for its methods or for some of its more than questionable acts in the past. We do not recognize it as a part and parcel of the national Democracy nor even an auxiliary or annex to it. We believe that the Democratic party of the nation would be better conditioned if Tammany was not in existence. It can never be depended upon in national contests, its action being entirely dependent upon the local conditions and the use it can make of the national ticket in carrying out its schemes for the control of the municipal government in New York City. We have no regrets for its defeat at the recent election, nor do we recognize in it any political significance, so far as it relates to the Democratic and Republican parties.

But while so much has been said, and with more or less truth, of Tammany corruption in New York, it has been a paragon of purity and honesty, compared with infamous ring headed by Quay which has for years controlled the municipal affairs in Philadelphia, and whose ramifications have extended throughout the entire State of Pennsylvania. But, while Tammany is held up as incarnate, but few of the Republican papers in the east have anything to say of the reeking cesspool of political corruption in the City of Brotherly Love, although Joan Wanamaker's North American has unsuccessfully led the fight for clean politics there. Nothing that Tammany has ever done, even in the historical days of Tweed, will compare in infamy with the act of the Quay-Stone ring in Pennsylvania in the so-called "ripper legislation" by which all of the municipalities of the State were placed under the control of a gang of political cut-throats and purse-snatchers, the most infamous feature of which infamous episode being the canvass of the Supreme Judges to secure the sustaining of the legislation. It has been conclusively proven that such canvass was had through one of the judges of the court, who had been a partner of Governor Stone and had been appointed to the court by him. A long distance telephone conversation between this judge, Dotter by name, and Governor Stone was published by the Philadelphia Press which convicts both of those officials of the offence charged to them by that paper, and which in any other State would result in the impeachment of both the governor and judge for high misdemeanor.

A Washington paper refers to "the brazen front of the ring that has long rioted in the spoils of municipal misrule." John Wanamaker has charged and proved that in the registration stuffing in Philadelphia, even the pet dogs—the clipped-eared bull terriers—were registered and voted by the facious owners. Tammany is but a kindergarten compared with the Philadelphia college of corruption with Quay at the head of the Faculty, which is further composed of post-graduates in the sciences of political corruption and miscellaneous infamy.

ADMIRAL SAMPSON protests against including in the records of the court of inquiry, statements that reflect upon him. Considering the fact that Sampson is responsible for the necessity of holding the court, the protest indicates that he realizes the folly of monkeying with a boomerang that has returned to the hurler and struck him between wind and water.

THE Sacramento Bee sizes up Tammany to a dot, when it says: "Though the organization is nominally Democratic, its real purpose is not the furtherance of any principle but the gathering of spoils."

WITH its last number, the Reno Ledger commenced its third volume. Our weekly neighbor has The Journal's best wishes for a long and prosperous career.

THE army is not being run as General Miles would run it if he had his own way, and there are those who think it a misfortune that he cannot have it.

WORK OF THE VOLUNTEERS

A Report of What They Are Accomplishing in Reno.

Editor Journal—Perhaps it would be of interest to the readers of The Journal, many of whom are contributors to our work, to know something about the standing of our work; so, if you will allow us space for the following statement, I will thank you very much:

What has been done with the money given to the V. of A.?

Captain Hogenson of the Volunteers of America, who came here two months ago and took charge of the local work of the Volunteers, wishes us to thank the public for their kind aid.

With his assistants he has conducted sixty services on the street and sixty-eight indoor meetings have been held.

The reading room has been renovated, a new sign put up announcing the V. of A. free reading room, where are found five daily and eleven weekly Nevada papers and other publications.

Captain Hogenson has paid for lodging and meals for the deserving needy who called upon him and has paid three months' rent at $12 per month, and three months' light and water at $5 per month, besides buying two cords of wood at $11.50 to keep the hall warm in cold weather. He has put in three new electric lights in the reading room and otherwise improved the place, all with an average income of only $3.75 per day and boarded himself, family and helpers.

The account books of the post are always open for inspection of any citizens who wish to know about the doings of the Volunteers of America and a public statement is made every three months in open meeting in the hall of the V. of A.

CHAS. E. HOGENSON, Captain.

Games Arranged for.

The football game between the N. S. U. and the Olympic team of San Francisco is billed for the 16th. The locals will go to Salt Lake Thanksgiving day to play the Utah University.

Will Have Good Music.

An effort will be made to secure the services of the Nevada State Band for the Thanksgiving ball. This event promises to be a very pleasant one. No expense will be spared to make it the success of the season.

Overseeing the Job.

Major Monroe is superintending the work of paving Commercial Row. The contractors are expediting the work and hope to have it completed by the 1st of December if weather permits.

Truckee Meadow Social.

A social dance was given at Huffaker's last night by the Sierra Club. A number of Reno people were in attendance. All present passed a very enjoyable evening.

GREAT LUCK OF AN EDITOR.

"For two years all efforts to cure Eczema in the palms of my hands failed," writes Editor H. N. Lester, of Syracuse, Kan., "then I was wholly cured by Bucklen's Arnica Salve." It's the world's best for Eruptions, Sores and all skin diseases. Only 25c at J. J. Hodgkinson's, druggist.

Correct Location Blanks.

Location blanks, made out in the most convenient form known, and conforming in every respect with the mining laws of Nevada, can be had at The Journal office. Prospectors, or any one intending to locate a claim or two should take a look at these neat and correct notices of location.

PIANOS ON EASY TERMS.

And at prices to suit any one. The prices range from two hundred and twenty-five dollars up—twenty-five dollars down and the balance in ten-dollar monthly installments.

These pianos are all fully guaranteed and have the latest improved action and are the style upright. No one on earth sells better pianos or better-toned pianos, or gives more value for the money than C. J. Brookins. Brookins has lived and sold pianos in Reno for thirty years. Why not buy your piano of Professor Brookins, who knows all about pianos and has made them a great study for thirty years? Call at 224 Virginia street, C. J. Brookins' store.

Building and Loan Talk No. 11.

"If I my own horn do not blow, by whom else it will be blown?" Thus spoke the preacher when he put a little tin horn to his mouth that the Sunday school children had placed on the Christmas tree for their pastor. There is a great deal of truth in what the minister said: "Self-praise (if indulged in obnoxiously) is half scandal," but a reasonable amount of self-confidence, of self-esteem and conceit are absolutely necessary for success in life. To be plain: If we possess anything good we ought not to let our lights be hid under a bushel. We should not bury our talents. We should blow our horns, and let the good news spread, and that is why the management of the "Phoenix" talks to you every day about the many attractive features that its plans possess. Without meaning in the least bit to underestimate or disparage any other building and loan company's plan, we feel that ours is the best. The only way the public can judge as to whether this statement is correct or not is to compare the plans. You cannot, however, compare them unless you know them, so in order to know our plan commence reading the "Talks" from No. 1 right up to date. They have appeared in all of the Reno papers daily. We will continue explaining our investment features in No. 12; lack of space forbids doing so today.

Note our strong list of head officers: A. A. Watkins (Vice-President of W. W. Montague & Co., and President of San Francisco Board of Trade) President.

Charles R. Bishop (Vice-President Bank of California), Vice-President. S. Prentiss Smith (Director Bank of D. O. Mills & Co., Sacramento), Treasurer.

Clarence Grange (Late Building & Loan Commissioner Montana), Secretary.

For further information see T. W. Griffin, Field Manager, or assistants at Riverside Hotel.

Reno payments may be made to the Washoe County Bank.

WOMEN AND JEWELS.

Jewels, candy, flowers, man—that is the order of a woman's preferences. Jewels form a magnet of mighty power to the average woman. Even that greatest of all jewels, health, is often ruined in the strenuous efforts to make or save the money to purchase them. If a woman will risk her health to get a coveted gem, then let her fortify herself against the insidious consequences of coughs, colds and bronchial affections by the regular use of Dr. Boschee's German Syrup. It will promptly arrest consumption in its early stages and heal the affected lungs and bronchial tubes and drive the dread disease from the system. It is not a cure-all, but it is certain cure for coughs, colds and all bronchial troubles. You can get Dr. G. O. Green's reliable remedies at Hodgkinson's drug store. Get Green's Special Almanac.

NEW TO-DAY.

Notice to Workingmen
